PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 19, 1833.

☞ The River is in good navigable order, and likely to continue so.

☞ SOMERSET.—Would it not be proper to hold a meeting, immediately, for the relief of the unfortunate sufferers by the fire at Somerset?—If the fire was really caused by the band of counterfeiters, it would give the sufferers an additional claim upon the liberality of our citizens.

ELECTION.—Fayette and Green Counties.—Jas. Sangston, the antimasonic candidate for the senate is elected over Mr. Buchanan, by a majority of three hundred and twenty two votes.

GENERAL SAMUEL M'KEAN.—From the annexed extract, from the American Sentinel, it seems probable that this gentleman will be our next Senator.—This result is not exactly what we could have desired, but it is not altogether unpalatable. The manly and fearless manner in which he denounced the Magician of Kinderhook, last fall, entitles him to some respect and esteem, as a Pennsylvanian.—He seems fully to have understood the character of Mr. Van Buren; and, as the yeomanry of Pennsylvania, by the election of so many of his friends, and by superseding all the "professed Democrats," who opposed him, have expressed their approbation of his sketch of the Magician's character, we think a few extracts from it will not be ill timed. In one passage, in this letter, General M'Kean speaks of the "grossness and servility of the fawning professions of Mr. Van Buren." In another passage, he declares that he knows Mr. Van Buren to be "devoid of political integrity." "Cunning, and a certain species of popular talent, he certainly possesses," says Gen. M'Kean, "but these only render him more dangerous."—The General, also, declares that when Mr. Van Buren entered the cabinet of President Jackson, he expected that mischiefs would ensue, and adds that his "expectations have been more than verified."

The Pittsburgh Mercury, in noticing this letter of Gen. M'Kean, censured him very sincerely.—The supple editor of that paper speaks of the "unwarrantable doctrines" of the writer—doubts whether General M'Kean was really a Jackson man—declares that Samuel M'Kean would prefer either Sergeant or Ellmaker, as Vice President, to Mr. Van Buren; and adds, that "this preference, no doubt, originates from Mr. M'Kean's friendship for, and connection with, Samuel D. Ingham, the apostate reviler of General Jackson."

Our neighbor will soon have to change his tune, and must bespatter Samuel M'Kean with praise thick enough to cover and hide the dirty blotches which he had previously made upon him.

We know not how our neighbor will contrive to throw off his old character of a "calumniator" of Samuel M'Kean, and, at once, become his base sycophant and flatterer—but, we have no doubt, he will manage it handsomely.—Facility of change is, in fact, the characteristic of the Mercury. If Mr. M'Kean should be elected Senator, we expect to find the editor of the Mercury as boisterous in his favor as he was in opposition to him.

"Among the earliest acts of the legislature, at the approaching session, will be the election of a Senator in Congress. On a cursory examination of the returns, we could not avoid noticing the fact, (whether accidental, or otherwise, we do not pretend to say,) that nearly all the professed democrats in the legislature, who were actively and violently opposed to the election of Gen. M'Kean, have been superseded; and there is scarcely a doubt that he will now be chosen without difficulty.—Without the slightest disparagement to any of the other gentlemen whose names have been mentioned for this highly important station, we have no hesitation in expressing our unfeigned gratification at the probability of such a result: for in the active business habits, the sound political principles, and the long experience of Gen. M'Kean, in public affairs, we have an assurance that the interests of the State will be safe in his hands: and whatever may be his feelings and opinions, on minor subjects, we know that he always has been, and now is, the honest and faithful friend of Gen. Jackson; and will give the national administration a fair and unequivocal support."

COMMONWEALTH, vs. Neal M'Elwayne, Pierce Brennan, & Alfred Loyd. } Indictment for assault and battery, with intent to kill, Avery Allyn—for a riot—and for assault and battery.

Yesterday afternoon, this case was given to the jury, who retired to deliberate, and in a short time brought in a verdict of guilty, on the third count, against all the defendants, against M'Elwayne on the second count, and all, not guilty, on the first count.—Sentence has not yet been passed upon them.

Extract of a letter to the Editor, dated

"SOMERSET, Oct. 16, 1833.

"Dear Sir—It is with feelings of the deepest regret, that I inform you that, on last evening, a fire broke out, which consumed nearly one half the town.—It is supposed that it was set on fire by some of the gang of counterfeiters that are still at liberty, for the purpose of liberating their associates, that are now in prison.

"People seem half distracted—for many are thrown out of house and home, in consequence of this distressing circumstance.

"N. B.—There have been 30 or 40 houses destroyed—with the post office and stage office—also, a pair of fine horses, owned by G. W. Dixon.

ART. 5. There shall be an annual meeting of the association, on the day before the annual commencement, at which time a public address shall be delivered before the Society, and all necessary business transacted.

ART. 6. This constitution may be amended at an annual meeting, by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

After an Address, by Thomas Livingston, Esq., of Pittsburgh, the association proceeded to the election of officers. James Ross, Esq., of Pittsburgh, was chosen President—Hon. Wm. Hendricks, of Indiana, Charles Hammond, Esq., of Cincinnati; Rev. W. Smith, and Rev. J. Ramsay, D. D., of Canonsburg, Dr. Andrew Livingston, of York, Pa., Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., of Albany, and Rev. Moses Allen, of Washington co., were elected Vice Presidents—Rev. Jno. H. Kennedy, of Canonsburg, was chosen Treasurer, and Stephen Caldwell, Esq., of Pittsburgh, Secretary.—The thanks of the meeting were tendered to Mr. Livingston, for his address, and arrangements were made for its publication.

T. Livingston, Esq., Rev. A. Williams, and Alfred Patterson, Esq., were appointed a committee to select a speaker for the next annual meeting.

On motion, it was Resolved, That the Secretary of the association prepare, and cause to be published, such of the proceedings of this meeting as he deems proper.

The society then adjourned, to meet at the time specified in the constitution.

An Irishman was arraigned, a few days since, before the Municipal Court of Boston, on an indictment for stealing. The Clerk asked him to plead "guilty or not guilty." "Sir," said the man, "I can't spake English." What can you speak? "Irish!" Well, that's as good English as I want. Guilty, or not guilty? "Not guilty, by the living jingoes!"

It is supposed Lower and Upper Canada now contain about one million of souls.—Poulson.

Rights of Woman.—Since the passage of the Reform Bill, considerable excitement has taken place among the fair sex in England as to their civil rights. One lady (unmarried) of fortune and family, named Mary Smith, of Stanmore, in York, had presented a petition to the House of Commons on the subject, in which she said that females were only kept in thraldom among barbarians and heathens; but that, in England, which had risen to such a high pitch of civilization, such restrictions should be abolished. She complained that females were amenable to the laws, and liable to be punished for their crimes, while they were tried by judges and juries of the opposite sex; they should, therefore, be allowed to sit upon juries. In fine, she prayed that unmarried females, of mature age, should be put on a footing of equality with the male sex, and be admitted to a share of the representation.

The petition was read by Mr. Cobbett, amid shouts of laughter from all sides of the house. A member then observed that it might be an awkward circumstance, if six unmarried females and six males were on the same jury, and that they happened not to agree in their verdict, they might be locked up together all night. Mr. Cobbett said, the house might, perhaps, think that of no consequence. He had known males and females to be locked up in the same room together, and even to sleep in the same room together, both in England and America, without any awkwardness ensuing from it. The petition was laid on the table; so that the qualifications of females to sit on juries, or be returned to parliament, are in a fair way of undergoing discussion in that body.—New York Evening Star.

THE SECOND BALLOON ASCENSION.

Yesterday afternoon, punctual to his hour, Mr. Durant made his second Ascent in his Balloon, from Federal or Observatory Hill. There were thousands upon thousands of people gathered upon the Hill to witness the spectacle. The wind was N. W., and continued to blow with considerable freshness until within a few minutes of the ascension, when it lulled to a mere zephyr. Mr. Durant started at half past four precisely, and the balloon was visible to the naked eye for exactly half an hour. Within the enclosure from which he arose, we have supposed that there must have been somewhere near 5,000 persons. And it was a beautiful and somewhat novel sight to us Americans, who are not often used to witness these large collections of people—who have but few gala days, and know but little of the parade, and pageantry, and the vast assembled multitudes, on days of public rejoicing, which belong to the old and more populous countries of Europe. There is always something imposing in a large crowd, and in so well conducted, well dressed, and so respectable an assemblage as this, composed as it was, of

"Fair women and brave men,"

there was much that was gratifying to the mind of any one, who was disposed to think well of his country and his countrymen.

Mr. Durant arose slowly from the enclosure, and after having ascended to a considerable height, in almost a direct line upwards, spread forth our national flag, which waved about gracefully in that upper air, as if it had been from the beginning destined to the loftiest flights. The crowd below gave hearty cheers, raised their hats, and shouted after him as he took his flight down the Bay, looking down upon this nether world, from a height loftier than any that the famed Soldier of Modern Europe ever stood upon—loftier than the Pyramids, or the great St. Bernard.

It was Mr. Durant's intention, when he started, to have gone over to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, but the lightness of the wind prevented. He alighted down the Bay, near Pool's Island, at half past 6, P. M., was taken on board the steam boat Independence, Captain Pearce, then on her way to Frenchtown, and returned in her from thence at 2 o'clock, this morning, with his balloon in perfect safety. His descent is thus described in a letter, dated

On board the steam boat Independence, }
Near Pool's Island, Tuesday, half past 6. }

I just had the pleasure of taking on board Mr. Durant and his Balloon. All you Baltimoreans have missed it—you should have come along with us—we saw him from the time he made his appearance above the fence on the hill until he got below North Point, then he descended about 10 minutes, took a snack, and something to drink—thought we had lost him, but soon found him after us again. He came down and hailed us frequently, waved his flag and hat;—we returned it with hearty cheers. After hovering about us for half an hour he descended to within about a foot of the water;—we took the small boat and towed him in, and took him on board. He said he had had a very pleasant voyage; after securing every thing, we all adjourned to the cabin, and, after having drunk his health more than once, the Captain invited us all to take supper with him, which was readily accepted.

We received Mr. Durant's journal too late for to day,—it will be given to morrow. He states, that on his voyage he hove too on the farm of Mr. Benjamin Porter, 10 miles from Baltimore, where he refreshed with a glass of water, conversed with Mr. P. and Dr. Mace, when, after taking leave, tripped his anchor, and ascended again and made for the steam boat Independence.

Since preparing the above we have received the following from a correspondent:

THE BALLOON.—Mr. Durant made his second Ascension yesterday afternoon. As before, it was beheld with delight and astonishment by a vast assembly of spectators of both sexes, and every age and condition of life; while the bright unclouded beauty of the sky, with the gentleness of the breeze, which wafted the ærial voyager through the unfathomable depths of ether, added much to the enjoyment of all.

Whilst these few lines are writing it is certain that Mr. Durant has returned safe to town, from his perilous expedition. The rumor is, that he reached the steamboat Independence, about 23 miles down the Bay. This vessel, which was then on her way to French Town, took Mr. D. in along with his beautiful apparatus. The Independence had left town about 4 o'clock, and Mr. D. began his ascension at half after four. At half after six he overtakes the steam boat. Let it be remembered that this is done when to all appearance there is scarce any wind, not even so much as a breath of air, while the illusion still prevailing, he seems for a long time suspended in the air.

Poetry has almost exhausted its powers in admiration of him who first defied the dangers of the sea. To what a pitch of phrenzied inspiration might it not tune its golden harp, in celebrating an achievement, at once so fraught with peril, and promising sooner or later so much utility.

A SPECTATOR.

A second division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, reaching from Seneca Creek up to Harper's Ferry, is completed, and about to be opened for transportation. The event is an important one to our neighbors of the District, and we have no doubt will realize for them all the advantages they have anticipated.—Balt. Amer.

From the Alexandria Gazette, Oct. 14.

Whilst we are writing, the waters of the Potomac above Harper's Ferry are silently flowing into the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. Passing the long contested Point of Rocks into the long finished part to Seneca, they will connect the tide water of this District to the fertile region of the Shenandoah, and the upper part of Virginia and Maryland, watered by the Potomac and its tributary streams.

This part of the canal is the most expensive of the Eastern section. The difficulties have been surmounted in a manner which reflects the highest degree of credit on those who directed, and those who have executed the work. Early in the ensuing season, more than one hundred miles will be completed, passing Shepherdstown and Williamsport on its rout.

The hopes of the people of the District have been raised to the expectation of its continuance to the bituminous coal region above Cumberland, and we hope they will not be disappointed.

In the mean time, however, we have the extreme gratification of feeling an assurance that the supply of coal will not depend on this event. We have before us a favorable specimen of Anthracite Coal, found about five feet below the surface of the ground, near the line of Berkley and Morgan counties, in Virginia, and about fifteen miles from the Potomac. There is every reason to believe that it will be found much nearer to the Canal, and that the supply of this article of necessity, will be abundant in quantity, and excellent in quality.

Those who are believers in the Goddess of Good Fortune, may congratulate you on this lucky hit. As we could not arrive at the Coal Banks as soon as we wished, the Coal Banks have kindly met us half way.—We trust that the Canal, this District, and the country at large, will reap the benefit of this important discovery.

The boundary line between the States of Mississippi and Tennessee is about being definitely located. The difference between the old and new lines gives to the latter State about two hundred thousand acres of land.

The report of Mr. Madison's death, which has been extensively circulated, is decidedly denied by the Fredericksburgh (Va.) Arena.

On Wednesday, the 2d inst., Squire and Cassey, (a boy and a girl,) were executed at Hopkinsville, Ky., for the murder of Mrs. Miller. Nothing occurred at the place of execution worthy of notice, except the declaration of the girl (Cassey,) that Squire was entirely innocent of the crime, she being the sole perpetrator. He wept and sobbed loudly and bitterly, and declared himself a guiltless person, and freely forgave those by whose evidence he was to suffer. In a few minutes after the drop fell—they ceased to live; and, after hanging about half an hour, were taken down and interred.—Phila. Chron.

Rumors.—We hear strange accounts from Washington, touching changes in operation. We know not the authenticity of the rumors. They hint at a denunciation of Van Buren by the Globe, at an opposition to the removal of the deposits by the Albany Argus, and a blowing up of the safety fund system; a grand movement by the irresponsible cabinet against Van Buren. "Are these things true?" say our readers. We know only what we hear, and what we have announced above. U. S. Gazette.

From the Charleston (Southern) Patriot.

The British Parliament have just revised the Charter of the Bank of England. Have they impugned the great principle of the British system of currency—that the Bank of England should be the regulator of the circulation? They have strengthened that principle; and, as it were, consecrated it. They have made it incumbent on that institution to publish weekly statements of the amount of its issues. This may be a necessary check, but the system itself is untouched in its essential parts. The Bank of France, also, publishes at stated periods the amount of its emissions. Let this principle be incorporated in any new charter that may be granted to a Bank of the United States, but the slightest relaxation of the radical principle of a sound system of circulation, the immediate convertibility of paper into gold or silver, all parties in the British Parliament frowned upon as pregnant with incalculable mischief.

The British system is essentially ours. The only mode, under both systems, of checking the subordinate banks, is to keep the principal institution true to its engagements to pay in specie. This can be done in no other way than by government control properly exercised. However we may modify our existing scheme, we must sooner or later return to this leading element in a proper system of Banking, and the sooner the friends of a National Bank, who have constitutional scruples, combine with those who differ with them on nothing but the constitutional point to amend the Constitution, the better for the stability of our monetary system and the country at large.

Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.—The Alexandria Gazette of Monday says—"Whilst we are writing, the waters of the Potomac above Harper's Ferry, are silently flowing into the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. Passing the long contested Point of Rocks into the finished part of the Seneca, they will connect the tide water of the District to the fertile region of the Shenandoah, and the upper part of Virginia and Maryland, watered by the Potomac and its tributary streams. This part of the canal has been by far the most expensive to construct, of the eastern section. By the commencement of next season, it is supposed that upwards of one hundred miles of the canal will be completed—passing Shepherdstown and Williamsport, on its rout westward.

At the end of the present year, there will probably be not less than $12,000,000 in the Treasury after the National Debt has been paid. In the ensuing Congress—now distant only about seven weeks—this surplus revenue may originate some discussions relative to the tariff duties, or how the superabundance may be best disposed of—and also may renew the debate relative to the public lands.—Philad. Sentinel, Oct. 16.

Further accounts, in relation to the late melancholy explosion of the steam boat New England, state that 14 of the wounded persons have died, and others are not expected to live. The body of a gentleman has been found near the place of the occurrence, with about $500 in his pocket. It was said he was bound for Hartford, where he was to meet his wife. A trunk has been also found, containing $1,500 in money, and about $10,000 in negociable paper.—Phila. Chron.

The principal topics likely to be discussed in the ensuing session of Congress—are the disposition of the public lands,—of the surplus revenue, (and thence perhaps on the tariff,) the question of the recharter of the U. S. Bank,—the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia,—and some others of less moment, except, perhaps, the state of affairs in Alabama.—Philad. Sent., Oct. 16.

Calvin Edson, known as the Living Skeleton, weighed, at the time of his death, 45 pounds.

The money paid to the captors of the Negroes from the Slave Vessels, within the last seven years, has amounted to $1, 370,000.

During the month of September, 105,033 barrels of Flour were received at New York, from the Canal and places along the North River.

The Washington Telegraph contains the project of a proposed amendment to the Constitution, dispensing with Electors of President and Vice President, and transferring the vote immediately to the People of each State. Whatever candidate has the majority of the votes, shall be considered as having the number of votes to which each State may be entitled. In case no candidate shall receive the majority of all the votes of the different States, the election is to go back to the People—and the choice is then to be confined to the two highest candidates on the list. The project proposes to declare the person who has once been elected President, ineligible for a second term—but there is one feature in the proposition against which we protest—and this is extending the Presidential term to five years.

In the recent Narrative of Captain Owen's Voyages to explore the Coast of Africa, &c.—the females of a native tribe are mentioned who have one custom which the navigators observed no where else. "This consisted in having the upper lip bored through, into which was introduced a piece of ivory or shell, made in the shape of a horn, very smooth, and about three inches in length. The extremity of this being in the mouth, the lady's principal amusement appeared to be in keeping it in constant motion with the tip of her tongue."

Captain Owen traced a similitude of aboriginal language from 12° to 33° South, "sufficient perhaps to assign a common origin to all the numerous tribes between those latitudes."

The description which a native, taken on board the Captain's ship, gave of the first horse race he witnessed at Cape Town, was this—"Ride, ride, like devil; flog like devil; go, oh go like devil."—He was in ecstasy when he uttered this.

The Doctor of the expedition was generally called by the natives "Make um well;" and the grog "Kill um cold." Tribes were found, "not an individual of whom could conceive the most distant idea of a God, the Maker of all things and Father of all men: such a being was so far beyond their comprehension, that they could not imagine any power able to make black and white men the children of one parent." The common exclamation of the Delagoa natives who were retained some time on board the ship, was—"White man sably ebry ting—Delagoa man no nutting, e d—n fool." They described one of their Kings as "richy, very richy man—he had too much onions."

At Quilimane, says the Narrative—"On one occasion, when passing a negro hut, our attention was attracted by the loud sobbing of a female, and the mournful cadence of her voice. On entering to ascertain the cause, we discovered that it was a mother wailing over the body of her infant child, who had died that morning. This lamentation sometimes lasts nearly two months, during which time they barely take sufficient nourishment to support life, and they perform no labor whatever, leaving the most trivial domestic duties to their neighbors, who in return for these services, are supplied with abundance of food."—Nat. Gaz.

The Russian Treaty of Alliance, offensive and defensive, with the Turks, has produced considerable excitement in Europe, and there is good reason that it should. Turkey becomes, in fact, a Russian province, administered by Mahmoud for the benefit of Nicholas. The Black Sea becomes the nursery for Russian sailors, and from Constantinople, hereafter, will substantially issue the decrees of the modern champion of despotism, against the principles of civilized Europe. It seems, morally speaking, a fit connection, that the Turk should be the ally of the barbarian Christian, to aid in checking the elevation of Europe in the scale of political freedom, and that the most despotic monarch of the age should strengthen his capacity for mischief against human rights, by fellowship with the most ignorant and enslaved people—except, perhaps, his own.

The seeds of future wars, without number, are to be found in this treaty—in which the opposite principles of Liberalism and Absolutism will contend for the mastery in Europe. It is not to be denied that the physical power is on the side of the enemy, and that he has, moreover, outwitted and outdiplomatized—if there be such a word—his adversaries. Before long, the cabinets of France and England will begin to suspect that they mistook their policy from the beginning, and to discover that their first duty to themselves was to keep the Russian Autocrat from meddling with the Turk at all; and the second, if they had determined not to go to war, to keep Mahmoud out of the power of Nicholas, was to insist upon neutrality, and let the Pacha of Egypt pursue his own way to the throne of the Sultan. They did neither—and the consequence is that the project of Catherine is in effect completed; and, if Constantine is not, as she designed, on the throne of Constantinople, it is in the power of Nicholas to put him there when he pleases.—Baltimore American.

Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company.—The seventh annual Report of the Board of Directors to the Stockholders of this Company, has been recently made, and published in pamphlet form, a copy of which is now before us. It is our intention to lay this interesting document before our readers in to morrow's Patriot. Meanwhile, we have the gratification to state, that the affairs of the Company are, on the whole, in a prosperous condition, and that there has been, during the past year, a steady and satisfactory increase in the revenue of the company, accompanied by comparatively small increase in the expenses of transportation. This is a fact of high importance, as touching the value of the stock, and the ultimate profit of the investment, and will not fail to be recognized as such by the stockholders, and all persons interested in the prosperity of the company, and success of the undertaking.—Balt. Patriot, Oct. 12.

Baltimore Market, Tuesday, Oct. 15, 1 o'clock, P. M.

FLOUR.—Little or nothing is doing in Howard street Flour. We hear of no sales, except on Saturday a lot was taken at $6; to day holders generally ask $5 87 1-2. The wagon price is $5 87 1-2; we note a sale of 300 bbls. City Mills Flour yesterday, at $6, four months.

GRAIN—We note sales of White Wheat, for family flour, at $1 25 a $1 30; prime red at $1 15 a $1 18; yellow corn at 66 a 67 cents; white corn at 64 cents; Rye at 68 a 69 cents, and Oats on the decline, at 32 a 33 cents.

WHISKEY.—The wagon price is about 17 cents, exclusive of the barrel, and store price 32 cents.—Patriot.

Extracts from the New York Markets, Oct. 12.

ASHES.—Pots were steady throughout at $4 50; Pearls advanced to $5 05.

BARILLA.—A sale of 50 tons at $50.

COFFEE.—There was a good deal of movement. The sales embrace 2500 bags Cuba at 11 1-2 a 13 1-2 cts. none of it scarcely prime; 2000 bags St. Domingo at 13 cts, with a discount for cash, and some ordinary at 12 cts. cash; 2000 bags Old Rio at 12 1-2 a 13 cts., and some Laguayra in lots at 14 cts.

COTTON.—The market was rather quiet, and a little concession was made on some lots of old crops. There was however rather more doing on the last two or three days, chiefly in new crop, of which there were sold about 500 bales Georgia and South Carolina at 18 cts. per lb., and a little at 18 1-4 cts., and some new N. Carolina at 17 cts. The whole sales extend to about 1500 bales, of which 850 were Upland old and new, at 14 1-2 a 18 cts.; 400 Orleans at 16 1-2 a 18 cts.; 50 Mobile at 16 1-2 a 17 1-2 cts., and about 50 Florida at 15 3-4 a 16.

SUGAR.—The market remained heavy, and in order to effect sales a decided decline was necessary, 2 a 300 boxes Havana browns were sold at 9, 8 3-4, 8 1-2, and one parcel of 60 boxes of middling quality at 8 1-4 cts. per lb., exhibiting a reduction of 1-2 a 3-4 c. from the highest point to which prices were carried. Most of the holders however are quite confident that prices will recover, and refuse to concede largely. By auction 40 brls. Brazil brought 8 3-4 a 1-2c. per lb.

WOOL.—The transactions were at steady prices for American fleeces, but not large.

CORN EXCHANGE.—The week was rather an active one in most of the branches. A good many orders for western flour had lain over from the previous week, in the expectation of executing them at $5 50, and being brought in early this week made so active a demand that prices advanced to $5 62 a 69, at which common and fair brands were firm for the two last days, with free selling; fancy brands 12 cts. higher. Several sales of Troy were made at $5 5-8. Ohio, which is constantly gaining in esteem, was sold in flat hoops at $5 5-8 a 3-4. New Yotk city sold at $5 56. There were sales of Richmond city at $7, and of common Southern sorts at $6 25 for new, and $5 4-4 a 78 for old re-inspected. Howard Street and Georgetown at $6 1-4 a 1-2. Sales of rye flour at $3 75. Corn meal no change.—There were large sales of wheat at $1 15 1-2 a $1 18 cts. for Genessee. One lot of seed wheat which having passed the sowing season was brought forward for grinding, brought $1 25 cts. A very prime parcel of Virginia Wheat brought $1 21 cts. per bushel. Rye, 80 a 81 cts.—sales and buyers. Northern yellow corn, 75 a 78 cents for Jersey, and 79 for up river. White corn, sale at 75 cts. for Jersey, and 78 cts. for Long Island. Southern Corn sold at 68 cts. for ordinary up to 74 cts. for prime. Barley sold at 71 cts. though sellers now ask a little more. Oats 40 cents.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.—Money is decidedly easier, and exchange and stock in consequence, more in demand.—Journal of Commerce.

Extracts from the New Orleans Markets, Oct. 1.

The market at this moment offers little to remark—every thing is measurably nominal, and but for the arrival of several vessels from the Atlantic cities, with cargoes for the approaching season, there would be little or no movement in trade. The Mississippi is at low water mark, and all the carts in the country are in requisition for transporting the alluvial earth into the city—appropos, horses are very scarce, and command high prices.

COTTON—Arrived since the 20th ult. 6427 bales. Cleared in the same time, for Havre 987 bales, Marseilles 460, New York 439, Boston 365, together 2251 bales—making an addition to stock of 4476, and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on ship board not cleared on the 30th ult. a stock (corrected by an addition of 2127 bales excess found) of 9657 bales. Nothing very particular has occurred this week, and our information does not comprehend more than sales of about 70 bales at 18 cts. per lb.

SUGAR AND MOLASSES, of Louisiana.—We can do little else than reiterate former remarks; the market is nearly bare of the articles but to supply the deficit, a plentiful supply of Havana sugar, white and brown, has arrived; our quotations have been revised by the trade, and we add, as a conclusion of ours, that the article is rather dull at the rates quoted. Cleared, during the last twelve months, 29338 hhds., 3287 bbls sugar, 18443 hhds. 11576 bbls. molasses. The crop of 1832—33, is supposesed to have been about 70000 hhds.; the present crop, it is thought, will exceed 100,000.—Of refined sugar, the export during the past twelve months has been, to New York, 1,161 hhds., 402 bbls; Philadelphia 573 hhds. 34 bbls.; Baltimore, 238 hhds. 54 bbls.; Charleston, 247 hhds. 135 bbls.; Savannah, 65 hhds. 65 bbls.; Boston, 48 hhds. 3 bbls.; Richmond, 57 hhds. 16 bbls.; Norfolk, 107 hhds. 100 bbls.; Tampico, 30 hhds. 20 bbls.; Omoa, 2 bbls.; Arkansas, 3 bbls; Portau Prince, 3 bbls.—together, 2526 hhds, 837 bbls.

FREIGHTS—The shipments of Cotton to Havre have been at 1 1-2 cent per lb., two vessels taken—to Liverpool, 1-2d. asked, and coastwise as last reported.—Levy's Price Current.

The instruments of this most extensive establishment have (for quality and volume of tone, and for materials and workmanship) received the decided approbation of the most distinguished professors of this country and Europe. ☞Ladies and Gentlemen are invited to call and examine the above instruments, at Cook and Schoyer's (late Sylvester's) store, corner of Wood and Third streets, where they will remain but a short time, Mr. Taylor's stay in this place being limited.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
other lots, containing about			6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county—and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others—a soil rich and productive—the neighborhood abounding in coal—well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States—In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
